1  Should the discussion board be used?

Should we use the discussion board for those occasions when the Virtual TA is supposed to be present, but is absent? (It would require the first person in that 9-11pm slot to create a new forum and then everyone else post within that forum.)

Use this forum to post your questions (new questions should start with a new thread). Also, help each other out by contributing to existing questions. I'll ask the TA's to look over and contribute to the forums when they are not busy in the Virtual Classroom during their assigned hours (9-11, Sun-Thu).
